

Higher Education Professionals

www.higheredprofessionals.info dedicated to the work of professional staff in higher education

Higher education is continuing to experience:

- rapid growth in the number and diversity of students
- changes in funding and accountability
- increasing knowledge and the demand for new disciplines and transdisciplinary approaches
- industrialisation and changes to industrial relations policy
- an explosion in information technology and the transformation of teaching and learning

Higher Education Professionals supports:

- Networking
- Dialogue
- Awareness raising
- Quality research on the work of higher education professionals

An effective and efficient higher education system will be essential to the sustainability of universities in the twenty-first century. Crucial to this sustainability will be an understanding of the work professional staff do, and the contributions they make to the strategic goals of their institutions.

Visit www.higheredprofessionals.info
Add your views to the Comments page

Higher Education Professionals is an initiative of Carroll Graham, as part of her Doctor of Education research at the University of Technology, Sydney (UTS)
Email: carroll.graham@uts.edu.au